

The Civil Rights Act of 1964: A 50th Anniversary Review

Wednesday, February 19 at 6 p.m.

Charleston County
Main Library
68 Calhoun Street

Half a century has passed since the U.S. Congress passed a landmark law to prohibit discrimination against racial, ethnic, national, and religious minorities, and women. Please join CCPL's historian, Dr. Nic Butler, for a conversation with Civil Rights veteran and Lowcountry legend, William "Bill" Saunders, about how far our community has come since the ratification of the 1964 law.
